

Publication : www.m3india.in	Subject : AVI Condemn Journal Environmental Health report
Date of Publish : 24 th February 2018	Edition : Online

Shortcomings in study claiming toxic metals in e-cigarette vapours: Expert

Raising strong objection against the latest study claiming that common e-cigarette "vapours" contain lead and other toxic metals and may raise major health issues, an expert argued that the sample size used in the research was not appropriate.